

Maggie Hollis

Front-porch Americana with a Shawnee Hills twang.

“A voice like creek water over limestone.” — Hollow Log Review

Bio

Maggie Hollis writes songs about river towns, back roads, and the people who stay. She grew up in Makanda and plays a 1968 Gibson that has been through three floods and one very bad breakup. Solo, she's a natural fit for wineries, listening rooms, and brunch patios. With her two-piece backing band she can fill a taproom. Her debut EP "Giant City Lullabies" was recorded live in a barn outside Cobden.

Genres

Folk, Americana, Solo Artist

Music

- Giant City Lullaby
- Kinkaid Lake in August

Past shows

- Sep 2026 — The Lantern Room
- Aug 2026 — Bluff Road Winery

Links

- Website: <https://example.com/maggie-hollis>
- Instagram: <https://example.com/maggie-hollis/instagram>
- Music Sample: <https://example.com/maggie-hollis/ep>